Dear Eric -

On Dec. 11th I sent you via registered mail some notes you requested to improve your Colonials, but have not heard from you. Just wondering if you received my letter.

This very quiet over this today.

Best wishes

Mr. Charles Affleck

Dear Charles:

You were not forgotten - only neglected. I have had a few family and business priorities which had to be taken out of my hobby time.

The only piece in the last group which battered mine was the 1781 Pennsylvania 10s. It has a heavy fold in the front and is slightly soiled. It is certainly far better than mine. Whether it should be in the $125 class I would not want to say.

I am enclosing for you, a New York April 15, 1758 5 pounds which is certainly in fine condition, and a North Carolina scarce little devil with the duck. I am returning all of the others. I hope this exchange is reasonable. If not, I'll favor you next round.

Things are not quiet for me, numismatically. I have to battle 1804 Dollar matters. I am being cut up in a Mexican paper money argument. I am opposed to the existing ANAT sponsorship. I have three articles by others to edit before they submit them for publication. The ANA Convention, in St. Louis, requires tasks being done and that's what happens to me.

I hope you are basking in the glory of your two fine masterpieces of writing. They have a prominent place in my library and I just made library cards for them.

My very best wishes to you.

Sincerely yours,

BOURSE CHAIRMAN

Dear Eric -
Glad to have yours this morning. I was beginning to be a little worried - possibly you were under the weather. I just understand and can understand how busy you are - and I'll place my bet on you to win.
Thank you for the trade - it is perfect. Off.

With reference to yours of 11-21-69, I needed all of the notes with the exception of Georgia '78 that you listed as $20 ft.
at $150 but it turned out to be a $30 item that you sent and which I had so returned it to you with my letter of Nov. 24th.
I hope you can send the $20 if not just replace with some other item on my want list.

I would like to go to NY this week end but won't be able to make it as have some business in Wash. & Balt. to look after.
Say thanks to you both as always,
Charles.

Dear Charles:

I am enclosing a $20 1778 Georgia, in very lovely condition. I was glad to have been able to find it. I believe its condition is such that it is a little more valuable than the open balance and if you feel like sending anything back, just send anything you think is fair. I will just drop them in my duplicate box.

Keep up your good work.

Dear Eric -

Sorry - no, duplicates of the 5¢ Dunnington and Cockrell Dunnington notes - A 20¢ item is listed in the VNA auction.

You had a fine show - where the time went I do not know - it seemed just like a "Hello" trip with no time to say "Goodbye".

Best wishes to you both as always Charlie

Dear Eric -

I have been redacting my Colonial collection these cold days when I cannot venture out.

I am enclosing copies of a 40s Mass.
of 1708 and a N. H.
6s. of 1744 both not priced in your book.
I do not recall seeing either in any recent auctions - can you give me a fair value for insurance?
Best wishes to you all as always Charles

Dear Charles:

It was delightful to hear from you, as always. We are experiencing bitter cold weather and I have had a cold for over a month.

I am, of course, continuing research work but am bogged down in too many projects for the moment.

Your 40 shilling Massachusetts of 1708 is a counterfeit and there are a few specimens of this counterfeit in various collections. I think that the insurable value is anywhere between $200 and $400.

As to your New Hampshire 6 shilling of 1742, re-dated 1744, I am not able to tell whether this is genuine or counterfeit. It looks perfectly genuine to me. It apparently is in nice condition and has a blank back. If it has a printed back, please send me a Xerox of the back. I think you should insure it for anywhere between $250 and $450. If you ever want to part with the New Hampshire note, I certainly would be interested.

My valuation of these pieces is based upon two sales of some early Massachusetts pieces which I acquired in English auctions. The Massachusetts pieces were genuine and either unique or one other known and they brought a $400 price each.

I certainly hope I have been helpful.

I have lots to talk over with you the next opportunity we have to get together.

Most cordially,

EPN/atb

Dear Eric -

Thank you so much for your good letter of the 3rd.

I greatly appreciate and thank you for the information on the early Massachusetts and New Hampshire notes.

I am enclosing another xerox copy of a 40s Mass.
Nov. 21, 1808 - this is only 5 numbers away from the one pictured in your book and has red scroll on back.

The New Hampshire
6 shilling of 1742 redated 1744 has a plain back. I am sorry that I do not have a duplicate to send you.

I am enclosing a list of duplicates recently acquired also my want list. I hope you can find something we can trade.

Do you have a New York in fine or better $3.00 Sept. 2, 1775 and March 5, 1776.
I need these for a display that I am working on.

I know that I am working too hard on this old paper money but just don't seem to be able to slow up. I'd be lost without this hobby - same as you. What a wealth of information you have given to the numismatists and where could you find another who is doing the research as you. Distwishes as always Charles

Dear Eric -

Glad to have yours today and am enclosing for your personal the notes requested.
Service is just routine with us.

These were hurriedly put together and the grad^{& primary} are all subject to rapid change without notice.
I'm up - must go to the hospital now to see my sister - Best wishes as always.

Sincerely
Charles.

Dear Charlie:

My $3 N.Y. 9/2/75 is unc. and my 3/5/76 is fine. They naturally can be loaned to you whenever you wish. I'll check my duplicates to see if I have ones which you can keep as part of an exchange.

Your nice remarks about my book are appreciated and and, coming from a renowned author, it is more meaningful. If you knew how many additions and corrections I am making for the hoped for revision you would be shocked.

I may be able to use some of your duplicates.

Please send the Mass. 1/3, 2/6 and 6 sh. of 6/18/76 and the New Hampshire 15d of 6/28/76. If you want to send all the 1780 Mass. pieces I will check them for varieties I save. If I can use the above I will produce things you need. Your collection is getting too complete so it's getting more difficult to fill your hole.

My very best to you and keep working on your collection. There is no greater satisfaction than writing and collecting, is there?

Cordially yours,

Dear Charlie:

Thank you for your nice letter with its enclosures.

With respect to the Connecticut 1s note which was not listed in the first printing of my book, this was caught and corrected in the second printing. I am not going to tell you all the other mistakes in the book because I am hoping there will be a revised edition and I can make many additions as well.

With respect to the Virginia Book Company, I am complimented by the fact that they want to sell the Virginia coinage study. If they write to the American Numismatic Society they may be able to order some of these monographs. I do not do anything in the way of selling the things which I write. This keeps me out of the commercial end of numismatics.

The notes sent in your recent group hit the jackpot once. The Massachusetts 2s 6d of June 18, 1776 I did not have. I find that you do not have the 2s 4d of the identical issue and I am enclosing No. 4175. This ought to be an even trade.

I am returning the balance of the notes as I find I have all of the technical varieties which they encompass.

In checking my New York duplicates I find that I have a nice $3 note from September 2, 1775 and a $3 March 5, 1776, No. 2304. These are enclosed for something you can exchange for them.

I do not need anything from your list but I am in correspondence with others who are Colonially bitten and maybe they have some wants that are on your list.

Your telephone call put in train a sequence of events and I have had several conversations with Charles Affleck. He is going to return the notes which were indeed taken improperly from our collection.

I will not go into the details of this story as I wish for a time to keep them confidential. However, I do want to assure you of our appreciation for your prompt action. Mr. Affleck has been very co-operative and a great help in unraveling the situation.

Dear Charles:

I have been away on vacation for a month. When, after my return this week, Historical Society of Pennsylvania told me particulars about their being in contact with you, I felt that I should write you.

You will recall that you asked about four large Colonial notes and sent photostats of them. After answering you, the Xeroxs were put on the top of a file box in which we keep the pictures of each Colonial issue. In due course I filed them away and noticed the identical numbers on two other pictures which were obtained in 1932 by Harley Freeman from the Historical Society. I then checked Harley Freeman's records by issue and noticed that all four items were once owned by the Society. Our relationship with this and other historical societies has been such that we felt obliged to check as to whether Historical Society of Pennsylvania had disposed of its notes.

I just learned some detail on your acquisition of the notes and other pieces and am sorry that the matter is so complicated. I have the greatest respect for you and hope you do not suffer any loss because of the situation. The disillusionment you may be having because of reliance upon the statements of others must be disheartening.

Please feel free to write me if I can be of help to you.

Dear Charles:

Since your books were so successful and well received, I thought I ought to ask you for any suggestions for improvement of Early Paper Money of America. At the Boston convention, where I hope to see you, I am going to discuss with Ken Bressett a Bicentennial edition. If, therefore, you have any improvements to suggest, it would be very timely.

You will recall that we have an understanding with respect to the 1777 Virginia 3 Pence Scrip. If you ever want to sell it to me early on the agreed basis, I will be glad to buy it at any time. You have enjoyed it for a while.

I have been working rather steadily on the Bicentennial Medal and Coinage Program and this is quite frustrating. I would much rather work on piecing together old historic matters just as you would.

It was good to hear from you.

I have no suggestions for improvement of your fine Early Paper Money of America Book. You did an excellent job. I plan to be in Boston and in the meantime will give it some thought.

Dear Charles:

I look forward to seeing you in Boston and was glad to learn from your letter that you were going to be there. I was wondering how you plan to revise your books on Virginia, whether you are going to republish the entire book or whether you are going to issue separate amendments. As to the 1777 Winchester, Virginia 3 pence script note, neither of us knows who is going to end up finally owning it. Even if I do acquire it some day it will be available for exhibit in Winchester for any occasion.

I am starting to write a few articles again as that gives me the same pleasure you obtain from your research.

When I was at the ANA Convention I heard that you were buying the collection of Charles Affleck. This may or may not be true, but I felt that I should advise you that a piece of Virginia scrip dated 1777 and issued in Lynchburg is subject to my purchase option under written contract between Mr. Affleck and myself.

Mr. Affleck is fully familiar with this matter and we even had correspondence concerning it a few weeks ago. Since that time I understand he has had a heart attack, as he told me he was planning to go to the Convention, and unfortunately he could not attend.

I was delighted with your introduction to the reprint of the Confederate material and remember with pleasure the contacts we had in connection with your prior writing.

I was very sorry that I could not get to the ana. at Boston and the Smithsonian last Saturday evening and will also miss our State Coin Show this coming week-end.

I had a flare up while in the doctor's office for a routine check-up last Tuesday. They rushed me to the hospital where I am now and hope this stay will not be for very long.

I am sorry that you felt it was necessary to write to Ball about the Winchester Colonial -

Dear Charlie:

I certainly hope you are home again and feeling well. I really missed you at Boston, then at the International Congress affairs in New York, Baltimore and Washington. You would have enjoyed it so much. It was great.

The basis for my writing Ball was that Paul Garland told me in Boston he had it on positive authority that you sold all of your paper money to Ball, that you were very sick and wouldn't come to Boston. I didn't want to write you if you were so very sick, so I wrote Ball. I'm delighted I was wrong. I am sorry that Ball was disturbed about my writing him. You were nice to write me about it.

P.S. I shall call you on Monday evening next (Sept 22nd) around 8 PM. Your time to get the news. Your help at times like these ~~are~~ deeply appreciated.

Please forgive my anxious tone but I'm not a lawyer, nor have I been around problems like this and I'm deeply upset, not so much for my own sake, as for Charlie Affleck's reputation.

Mrs. Margaret A. Kern, Executrix of the Estate of Charles J. Affleck 34 Peyton Street
Winchester, Virginia 22601

Dear Mrs. Kern:

As I told you over the telephone, I just learned of the death of your brother, Charles Affleck. I certainly will miss him. He was a rare breed of enthusiastic collectors, a gentleman and a delightful person to work with.

You indicated that you were aware of the contract dated October 31, 1969, between Charles and myself covering a piece of paper money issued in Winchester, Virginia on May 5, 1777. A copy of that contract is enclosed herewith. You told me that this piece was being held by Mr. Elvin B. Miller of Leesburg, Virginia, who is familiar with my rights in connection with the item. Will you, therefore, be kind enough to send this piece of paper money to me by registered mail and I will send to the estate my check for $85.00, plus interest.

Charles enjoyed having this piece for many years and now I will be enjoying it in my collection.

I am sending a carbon copy of this letter to Mr. Miller.

Sincerely yours,

Eric P. Newman

Mr. Charles J. Affleck

Winchester, Virginia 22601

Dear Charles:

A piece of J. Gambel Dowdall's three pence scrip dated at Winchester, Virginia, May 5, 1777, was purchased by you as Lot No. 1169 at the Budde Auction in Washington, D. C., on October 29, 1969, for $85 in accordance with the following prior understanding with me:

At the time of your incompetency or death, whichever first occurs, your personal representative agrees to offer the above item to me for purchase by letter at a price of $85 plus 7 per cent per annum interest from October 29, 1969, until the date of the sale. In the event you desire to offer the item to me at any earlier time, that is satisfactory. You and your personal representatives are not to sell, pledge, or transfer any rights to the above item until I have had the opportunity to make the above purchase. My right to make the purchase shall expire if my incompetency or death occurs prior to my right to receive the offer.

Will you confirm this understanding on all copies of this letter and return two to me.

Sincerely yours,

Eric P. Newman

Dear Mr. Miller;

I did not know until yesterday that Charles Affleck had died. I had been out of town for a few weeks on vacation and your letter came at that time. As to the 9 pence note, I am not sure of its signature. Is it John Hough, Junior, or is it a longer name?

As to the value of the note, there is really no guideline I can give you. It is a private note and not a public one. It is rare and I am not familiar with any other example. Its value is dependent upon whether condition or rarity is the most important thing to the buyer. If you are going to sell it privately, I would be most grateful for an opportunity to buy it.

What I would appreciate is a good photocopy of it as unfortunately the photocopy you sent me has a white label blocking out a portion of the note. Will you, therefore, be nice enough to ask whoever has the note to make such a photocopy for me if you do not have it at this time.

With Kindest regards,

Eric P. Newman
